ANNEXURE IV

BEST PRACTICE – I

Poetry Club

Goals:

- It aims to provide an opportunity to develop their creative thinking.
- It provides an opportunity to rejuvenate themselves
- Through these activities students are enabled to express themselves.
- To develop aesthetic sense.

Context:

Looking at the interest of the students in creative writing , the college decided to provide different platforms to enable and enhance their skills. As a result different club were formed such as Nature’s Club, Reader’s Club and Poetry Club. Poetry Club was started from the Academic Year 2013-14.

Practice:

Poetry Club organizes poem competitions at the college level. Students write poems which are raw initially but finely polished and reframed with the help of club members. Finally the poems are displayed on the poetry corner and also published in college magazine “Darpan”

Problem:

The students being from commerce and science background, it becomes difficult to increase their participation.

Evidence of Success:

- Mini Poetry Festival was organized with guest and participants from different colleges.
- Two inter-collegiate poetry composition and recitation were organized in five languages. Students from distant colleges participated and appreciated it as a noble and unique activity.

BEST PRACTICE – II

Student Research Club

Goals:

- It aims to provide an opportunity to develop their scientific and logical thinking.
- It provides a platform to the students to enhance their presentation skills.
- Through these activities, the students are enabled to search for the information relating to the topic and make presentations.

Context:

In the modern competitive world, it becomes imperative to train the students to enhance their presentation skills. Student Research Club was started to provide an opportunity to the students to collect information on the topics assigned and present it using power point.

Practice:

Student Research Club organizes paper presentation competition on every alternate Wednesday. The students from all the faculties come together and make their group presentation. The winners are declared and the changes if required are suggested by the different staff members appointed as the chairpersons for the different competitions.

Problem:

The students belong to Commerce, Management and Science streams. So the topics selection for presentation becomes a challenging job.

Evidence of Success:

Inter-collegiate paper presentation competition was organized with good number of participants. The positive feedback proved the success ratio of the activity.

ANNEXURE V

SWOC Analysis

Strengths:

- 1) Bharat College, being the oldest and English-medium, tries to meet the educational aspirations of the middle class population. It also delivers quality through various inter-linked initiatives and an improved educational infrastructure.
- 2) Online inter-disciplinary and multi-disciplinary peer reviewed journal Episteme with ISSN 2278-8794.
- 3) Many inter-collegiate activities focusing on arts, culture and management.
- 4) Well-equipped gymkhana.
- 5) Unique clubs like Poetry Club, Hobby Club, Photography Club, Nature Club, Readers Club, History Club, Youth Club, Debate Club, Financial Literacy Forum etc. to promote creativity and inter-personal skills.

Weaknesses:

- 1) Academically weak learners.
- 2) Flood prone area.
- 3) Mumbai colleges exert a greater pull on bright students from this area.
- 4) Lack of funding.
- 5) Space constraint.

Opportunities:

- 1) City is growing fast so the college can have a better visibility and a better catchment area in coming years.
- 2) The middle-class population settled here works in Mumbai and Thane. They want better educational infrastructure. Bharat College and its school are already providers of quality education locally and will further attract the children of these aspiring parents.
- 3) With the passage of time, more courses and skill-based programs can be possible as per the changing demographics of this city.

4) Opportunities would be available in coming years for the industry and academic interface with the different industries located in Kalyan-Ambarnath industrial belt getting revived.

Challenges:

- 1) Sustainability of self-financing programmes in the current learning environment.
- 2) Motivating the young staff for real research with impact factor.
- 3) Improvement in enrolment for Computer Science course is a difficult task.
- 4) Faculty retention in self-financing programmes.
